Government Said To Have Been Misused

Oklahoma City—Val Gardner, formerly a citizen of Tonkawa, Okla., appeared before the house investigating committee of the Oklahoma legislature Sunday and testified in corroboration of the charges in the fifth count of the impeachment bill against Governor J. C. Walton, suspended executive, according to members of the committee.

This count alleges that Governor Walton received $6,000 from citizens from Tonkawa in return for which he permitted the application for the Tonkawa school to stand untrammelled.

Members of the investigating committee said Gardner testified the money—six $1,000 bills—was drawn from the Security National bank of Tonkawa, and given to him in an envelope. He delivered the money to J. B. Snodgrass, an employee of the Oklahoma state highway department, Gardner added, the legislature said.

The grand jury which is said to be investigating the action of the governor, resumed activities Monday.

FEDERAL PROBE IMMINENT
Possibility of a federal probe of the actions of Governor Walton loomed Sunday when it became known that a federal investigator had asked the house committee for evidence regarding the mismanagement of the federal truck funds.

Evidence tends to show that federal trucks donated to the Oklahoma highway department were used by the state for purposes other than those for which the federal government intended, legislators who have investigated the actions of the governor claim.

MER ROUGE KLAN
PROBE IS OPENED

By Associated Press
Bastrop, La.—The trials of alleged Klansmen, charged with hooded mob operations in Morehouse Parish last year opened before Fred M. Odum, judge of the Sixth judicial district.

The first case called was that of W. G. McIntosh, charged with carrying firearms on the premises of another. Assistant Attorney General Guion suggested that all the defendants charged with this offense be tried jointly in order to save time. The defense agreed. The other defendants are Captain J. W. Skipwith, Marvin Pickett, Cud Pickett, Sam Eldridge and Sam Cox. This charge grew out of a raid made on the home of Alonzo Bradstock, alleged bootlegger. Bradstock was brought to Bastrop by the raiding party and delivered to Sheriff Carpenter.

He later came to this country and shortly after the Civil War, settled in Iowa where for 45 years he was an employee of the Rock Island railroad. The old soldier is in excellent health.

War Finance Investigators Submit
Result Of Probe
To Coolidge

By Associated Press
Washington—Cooperative marketing and ready adjustment of acreage to conditions of world production were recommended as promising the only permanent solution of the wheat problem in a report submitted to President Coolidge by the war finance corporation investigators who recently toured the wheat areas at his request.

Urging the necessity of maintaining "a thoroughly rational attitude in dealing with the problem, the report, submitted by directors Eugene Meyer, Jr. and Frank W. Ondell published Monday, discussed numerous other proposals presented during their study, but which they found generally either unsound or to offer no permanent solution.

The proposals advanced in the report already have been discussed by the two officials with Mr. Coolidge, and may form the basis of an administration policy on the question.

"Cooperative marketing associations organized along sound lines and with competent management and business guidance," the report said, "offer at the present time, in our opinion more promise of helpful results than any other plan or program that has been suggested."

Chief among the causes of depression among the wheat farmers were found to be the local tax burden, the scarcity and high cost of labor and existing freight rates on grain. As a measure to relieve the first it was recommended that tax-exempt securities be abolished and the higher brackets of the federal income tax, which were held to encourage investors to place money in such securities, be reduced. The tax exempt securities, the report said, had encouraged states, counties and municipalities to make "extravagant" expenditures.

Izaak Walton's Give Banquet For
Senator Opposing Mississippi Drainage

By Associated Press
Chicago—Sportsmen from central western states plan to attend the Izaak McCormick banquet of the Izaak Walton League to be given Monday night by the Chicago chapter. The affair is in honor of Senator McCormick, who is to introduce a bill into the senate, sponsored by the league, to prevent drainage of upper Mississippi bottom lands.

Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Iowa, Minnesota, Ohio and Illinois are said to be represented by requests for reservation to the banquet.

The Izaak Walton League is creating sentiment opposed to the drainage of the low land in the upper Mississippi where it is said that a large amount of the country's wild life is propagated. A move is already on foot to drain away the water in an attempt to convert the section into agricultural land.

By Associated Press
Sturgeon Bay—The steamer Francis L. Robins, bound from Cleveland to Green Bay with coal, aground on Fisherman shoal in Green Bay since Sunday morning, is being lighted Monday by the wrecking tug Favorite from Detroit.

Dense fog in Green Bay is said to have been the cause of the grounding of the steamer. The coast guard crew from Plum Island went to the assistance of the Robins.

Reports from the steamer were that the tug was expected to have it off the shoal late Monday. It is believed the boat is not seriously damaged.

Oshkosh—Parental affection cost the life of little Lawrence Bachman, 3 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bachman, 541 Sixteenth st., Saturday afternoon. Little Lawrence was playing on the opposite side of the street from his home on the corner of Sixteenth and Iowa sts. His father came out onto the porch of the home. A devoted affection for his parent caused the child to run to his father, darting directly into the path of an automobile driven by George Daniels, 20 years, who resides at 1619 Michigan st. Horrortrucked, the father rushed to the child, picked the limp and lifeless body up in his arms and took him to the hospital. Lawrence was dead long before they reached the institution. Concussion of the brain caused by being struck on the head by the bumper of the Daniels machine had probably instantly snuffed out his life. Young Daniels was lodged in the city jail over night. An inquest was to be held at 9:30 o'clock Monday morning.

Washington, D. STAND FALLS
AT GRID FIELD

Three Hundred Spectators Endangered As Bleachers Collapse

The excitement following the initial touchdown of the Lawrence-Ripon football game Saturday afternoon was too much for the stability of the bleachers east of the grand stand. Three hundred spectators were threatened with injuries when the structure collapsed. The names of only two injured persons were reported to the police department, however. They were Mrs. C. W. Zelle, 438 Eldorado st., and Arthur Chandler, 497 South st. Mr. Chandler suffered a bruised ankle and Mrs. Zelle's right ankle was sprained.

Besides the injured persons were conveyed from the grounds in the Ku-nu ambulance, at least four other persons suffered minor injuries and one of them was taken home in a taxi cab. Another person was in waiting out the football game.

The stand was not a total wreck but gave way in the center. The persons who were taken to the field house for medical treatment included Miss Gladys Thompson, a Lawrence freshman whose home is in Fond du Lac, Robert Streissguth of Milwaukee and Raymond Westphal, a junior at Lawrence whose home is in Randolph. They had sustained only minor injuries. An elderly woman had a bruised ankle but remained for the finish of the game. A guest of one of the students was hit on the head and stunned for a few minutes, but he too remained for the rest of the game.

With the one side of the stand wrecked, many of the football fans would have returned to their places in the other side had it not been for police interference. It was necessary to keep a policeman stationed at the bleachers to keep people off.

THOUSANDS ATTEND
BONAR LAW BURIAL

By Associated Press
London—The ashes of Andrew Bonar Law, who was prime minister of Great Britain for seven months and perhaps the most modest man on whom that honor ever was conferred, were entombed Monday in Westminster abbey.

In this shrine, wherein the nation holds its most sacred rituals, both solemn and happy—ceremonies, weddings and funerals—were assembled a distinguished company of nearly 3,000 persons, representing all who are prominent and important in the British world. There were members of the Royal family, several hundred men from the houses of parliament, the premiers of the British dominions beyond the seas, the chiefs of the army, navy, judiciary and civil service, members of the diplomatic corps, numerous leaders of finance and business from which spheres the late statesman had passed into a life of politics. Also there were present many persons famous in literature and in the arts and one large group composed of every day British citizens, thousands of whom had waited for hours outside the abbey in the hope of being fortunate enough to gain admission.

France Fears Isolation
Great Britain's insistence on conditions unacceptable to France in connection with the capacity inquiry into Germany's capacity to pay, and the tendency of the British press to raise points disagreeable to France in this connection have developed a feeling in French official circles, as expressed there Monday that there is a systematic effort going on to isolate France. News dispatches from Washington, attributing to both Secretary Hughes and President Coolidge sentiments in harmony with those expressed in London and reports that the Belgians are inclined to sheer off from the French policy, have contributed to this feeling, although it is declared in official circles that Paris and Brussels

DEFINITE INTERPRETATION
Coming direct from the French capital, Ambassador Jusserand was believed to be in a position to interpret more definitely the intent and purpose of the restrictions which an official report had indicated government desires to place on the proposed economic committee's investigation.

Supplementing his understanding of the situation gained during his stay abroad, the ambassador no doubt also will have received last minute instructions from the French foreign office. The numerous developments reported in connection with negotiations between the allied governments since the ambassador's departure from France have multiplied the uncertainty in the situation so far as their significance can be read here.

One entirely clear element in the situation, however, is the American government's reiterated view that a limited inquiry into the question of Germany's capacity to pay reparations would be futile.

JUSSERAND HAS NO NOTE
Paris—Ambassador Jusserand will verbally communicate to Secretary of state Hughes, the attitude of the French government in the reparation negotiations, governing himself by his talk with Premier Poincare before he sailed, and by information since sent to the French embassy in Washington. He will deliver no note. It was said at the foreign office Monday morning. The latest instructions from the Quai d'Orsay went forward Saturday.

Much interest has been aroused by Ambassador Herricks' declaration at a war memorial dedication at Navarin farm Sunday, that the people of the United States having put their hands to the plow "were willing to run the furrow through." Knowing that, "if the present problem is not solved—and justly and quickly solved, then truly America will have fought the war in vain."

"Because of the things we fought for, because of the things we hoped for, because of the things our men died for," the ambassador said, "whether we like it or not, our lot is now cast in with the other nations to a very considerable extent. This whole question arises far and away above the clamor and strife of partisan politics and who seizes upon it for political advantage seeks the memory of the dead we come here to honor."

The European situation at the present moment concerns America as profoundly, though far less tragically, than did the affairs of 1914 to 1917. Ambassador Herricks asserted, adding: "Our continued well being depends largely upon the settlement of European affairs, and calls for the exercise of the same common sense and business judgment as actuated America in joining the war."

RUHR INVADED TO IMPRESS GERMANY THAT SHE MUST PAY

First Forum Speaker Justifies French Seizure Of Ruhr Provinces

Discussing the invasion of the Ruhr, from the French standpoint, Prof. Eugene A. Tamm, of the University of Wisconsin, spoke at the first forum on the subject of the Ruhr invasion, held at the University of Wisconsin, Monday evening.

France demands the Ruhr, he said, because she is not satisfied with the reparations which Germany has agreed to pay. He said that the French side against the Ruhr invasion was not a matter of principle, but a matter of fact. France had in mind what it was she asked. Repeatedly in 1922 the French government claimed that in addition to Germany's reparations, something must be done to secure productive guarantees in the form of industries and mining plants which would produce revenue.

She said Germany was not really anxious to pay, and that the French side against the Ruhr invasion was not a matter of principle, but a matter of fact.

27 CONCERNS PAY THIRD OF CITY'S TAXES

Appleton Has Two Industrial Institutions Assessed At Over Million

Twenty-seven of Appleton's industrial and commercial concerns will pay one-third of the city's taxes next January, regardless of the rate that the city council will levy this month. Official assessment figures for the city of Appleton, as compiled by E. C. Williams, city clerk, from the records of A. C. Rule, city assessor, give the valuation of all taxable property at $27,724,240. Of this amount, $8,410,000 was assessed by Mr. Rule against the 27 firms referred to.

Sixteen industrial concerns have an aggregate assessment of $3,999,000 and eleven mercantile companies are assessed $2,542,000. The assessments do not include the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company, the Wisconsin Telephone company, or the steam railroads, as these are assessed and taxed by the state tax commission.

Appleton has two million-dollar industrial plants, three whose values are rated at more than $500,000, and eleven with assessments ranging from $100,000 to $500,000. There is one business institution with an assessment of more than $500,000, and ten that are rated at $100,000 to $500,000.

TRACTION COMPANY LEADS
The Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company is the industrial concern of greatest value. It is not assessed by the local assessor, but the valuation placed upon it in 1922 by the state tax commission was $3,000,000. This includes the gas plant, power plant, electric lines, cars, street, railroad tracks and rolling stock. Some of the property is not located in Appleton.

The concerns of next greatest worth is the Fox River Paper company with an assessment of $1,477,500 or a little short of the million and a half dollar class. New construction completed this year is not included in this year's figures. The company last year paid a tax of about $62,500.

Other industrial concerns which ranked above the $500,000 mark were the Interlake Pulp and Paper company with an assessment of $595,000; the Riverside Fibre and Paper company with $500,000 and the Kimberly-Clark company holdings in Appleton amounting to $555,000. The new buildings being erected are not yet assessed.

Industrial concerns assessed between $100,000 and $500,000 are as follows: Patton Paper company $325,000; Appleton Coated Paper company (the year's new construction not included), $315,000; Appleton Wire Works, $290,000; Tuttle Press company, $255,000; Thilmany Pulp and Paper company, $200,000; Appleton-Woolen mills $200,000; Valley Iron works, $160,000; Eagle Manufacturing company $175,000; Appleton Superior Knitting company, $110,500; Appleton Machine company, $100,000; Appleton Chair company, $100,000.

BIG STORES HERE
Petibone-Peabody company leads the class of mercantile institutions with an assessment of $500,000. But the two national banks, as financial institutions, both exceed it. The First National bank is rated at $626,000, the Citizens' National bank at $357,000, the First Trust company at $207,000, and the Appleton State bank at $151,000.

Other institutions with high assessments are Insurance-bldg of the Aid Association for Lutherans, $225,000; Geenen's drygoods store, $151,000; Conway hotel, $130,000; Schlafel Hardware company, $125,000; Gloudemans-Gage company $120,000; S. C. Shannon company, $110,000. Hotel Appleton with an assessment of $82,000 will pass the $100,000 mark next year when the new addition is in operation.

MEET HERE TO PICK SUBJECT FOR DEBATE

High School Students Want
Topic Of Interest To Fox
River Valley

In an effort to interest all people in the Fox river valley in the debate work which is being done in the high schools of the Fox River Valley debating league, and to give the debaters a chance to do research work on some problem of great valley interest, the league will decide on some local question for debate at the meeting in Milwaukee on Nov. 8. Appleton high school, through its debate coach, Karl A. Windesheim, may propose any question for debate this season. Mr. Windesheim would be pleased to have any questions which are of interest to people in the valley suggested to him and he will present them to the officers of the league next week.

The Fox River Valley league is at present composed of the larger schools in this district, including Manitowish, Sheboygan, Green Bay, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac and Appleton. The league is divided into two tri-angles, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac and Sheboygan and Appleton, East Green Bay and Manitowish. The winners of each triangle will meet to determine league championship. It is possible that a third triangle of schools will be added to the league this year.

Although Appleton has plenty of material for debate work, there are only two veteran debaters at the school this year, Maurice Lewis and Harold Zuehlke. Ward Wheeler and Erna Gosse were alternates last year and have had considerable debate coaching, however. The Appleton coach is new in the league but has had a great deal of debate experience. He was one of the affirmative team which debated the league of nations question for Lawrence college last year. He was one of the men chosen by Lawrence to take the long western debate trip in 1922. He won an honor "L" in forensics while in college.

and I have enjoyed splendid health ever since. I can sincerely recommend Tanlac to anyone."

Mrs. Cora Lynch, well known practical nurse, 3236 Avenue C, Birmingham, Ala., expresses her gratitude to Tanlac in the following words:

"For three or four years I had suffered from a combination of stomach, liver and kidney disorders, could not assimilate my food and was almost constantly suffering from pains in different parts of my body. Tanlac relieved my health splendidly. I now keep it in the house and take a little when not feeling right. It never disappoints me."

Miss Mary Earle, 1531 North 20th-st., Omaha, Neb., for fifteen years a practical nurse, recently stated:

"I can recommend Tanlac not only because of what it has done for me, but also because of what I have seen it do for others. After a long spell of typhoid my brother was so weak he could barely walk from one chair to another. I gave him Tanlac and it was simply marvelous the way it built him up. Nursing him through that long illness left me weak and exhausted. I could eat but little and my food hurt me. Tanlac restored my strength and health and built me up fifteen pounds in weight. As a nurse and user of Tanlac I give it my unqualified endorsement."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Take Tanlac Vegetable Pills.

From my long experience as a nurse I do not hesitate to say Tanlac is Nature's most perfect remedy. I have used it exclusively for seven years in the treatment of my charity patients. For keeping the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels functioning properly and for toning up the system in general, Tanlac has no equal."

Mrs. L. A. Lorenzen, graduate of Bellevue Hospital, New York, now a wealthy and influential resident of 2537 Faxon Ave., San Francisco, says:

"In all my experience as a nurse, I never found a stomach medicine and tonic that compares with Tanlac. My own health was terrible five years ago, and although I spent hundreds of dollars in a vain search for relief from nervousness, indigestion and my generally run-down condition, it remained for Tanlac to give me back my health."

MADISON MAY ABANDON ITS ANCIENT CITY HALL

Madison—Madison may abandon its almost prehistoric city hall in 1925, with a joint county and city committee reporting in favor of erecting a city and county building. The latest move follows a rumor that have arisen in reply to an insistent demand for a new city hall. It is argued that the two administration buildings in one would affect a great economy.

Each triangle will meet to determine league championship. It is possible that a third triangle of schools will be added to the league this year.

STARS INDICATE SERVICE RECORD

Postal Employees Prize Insignia
Indicating Length Of Employment

Prizes as highly as the service stars of the men of Company G and other military units that went to war for America in 1917 and 1918 are the service stars of postal achievement in Appleton as well as at other postoffices. Postal service stars are worn only by the carriers since they are the only members of the service who wear uniforms.

Service stars are really an old institution in the postal service, but most mail patrons are somewhat mystified by their meaning. Although the exact date when the practice was started is not known, it is believed to have been initiated about 1860.

The stars are worn on the cuff of the carriers coat just above the black braid. Following is a list of the stars and the years of service for which they stand:

One black silk star, 5 years' service.
Two black silk stars, 10 years' service.
One red silk star, 15 years' service.

Two red silk stars, 20 years' service.
One silver star, 25 years' service.
Two silver stars, 30 years' service.
One gold star, 35 years' service.
Two gold stars, 40 years' service.

Coughing—a futile waste of strength—

MEDICAL authorities agree that coughing aggravates the irritation in throat and lungs that is causing the cough and therefore only makes you cough the more. Control the cough and the irritation is soon relieved.

Dr. King's New Discovery stops coughing quickly by gently stimulating the mucous membranes to throw off clogging secretions. Harmlessly and effectively the violent throat and chest spasms are quieted, and the inflammation then quickly clears away. It has an agreeable taste. All druggists.

HELP FOR GERMANY

One of the first things Senator LaFollette did on his return from Europe was to issue an appeal in behalf of Germany. He wants the American people to extend aid to its people. We believe his appeal will find a sincere response. America holds no bitterness, no hostility, toward the German people. The war it waged against Germany in concert with the allies was not against the German people, but against the wrongs and arrogance of a militaristic government. President Wilson early drew a distinction between the German government and the German people, holding that we had no quarrel with the latter.

We think there is nothing but good will in this country toward the efforts of the free-loving, peace-serving people of Germany to set up a republic and make it a success. We are sure the American people desire to see Germany work herself out of the burdens entailed by the war, and to see her saved from the social and political dangers which today menace her. They wish to see her recover financially and economically, and they wish to spare her people suffering and privation so far as it may lie in their power.

The government at Washington has undertaken a step, in conjunction with Great Britain, that, if carried through to its logical conclusion, will be of greater assistance to Germany in the solution of her political and economic problems than anything else we can do. If Senator LaFollette and those associated with him politically, will support the administration in its attempt to bring about a review of reparations and an adjustment of the indemnity assessed against Germany in accordance with her ability to pay, they will be contributing powerfully toward the end he seeks to attain.

We believe, furthermore, that the United States might be induced to modify in some degree the claims it has against Europe, for the common good of all. This would help Germany by further ameliorating her obligations. We believe American financial interests stand ready to aid Germany whenever a plan can be worked out that will put her monetary system on a sound basis and give proper security to loans. It may be taken for granted that the American people will gladly contribute of their money and prosperity to relieve hunger and misery in Germany.

If the men with whom Senator LaFollette is associated politically, and the Republican party as a whole, will get back of the administration and encourage its obvious willingness to cooperate for the restoration of Europe, the rest will be comparatively easy. So long as the irreconcilables and other extremists continue to stand in the way of our affiliation with other nations for the common good, and particularly to help Europe out of its difficulties and to point the way to a new spirit and new order there, just so long will Europe remain in bondage to its misfortunes, excesses and strife.

ROBBING THE DISABLED

If anything could be worse than profiteering during a war upon the government and people engaged in fighting it, surely it must be profiteering out of the funds voted for the relief and rehabilitation of disabled soldiers. Battering upon the tragedy of war could be only less despicable than battering upon the victims of it. The present investigation into affairs of the veterans bureau has indicated a number of shocking conditions, including apparent graft by men upon whose good will and honesty the disabled veterans had been told they must rely.

The answer of Colonel Forbes, former director of rehabilitation work, is the exceedingly odd one that somebody is "framing" him. Perhaps some one is. General Hines, the present director, discovers discrepancies running on into the period of his own administration and apparently not connected with Forbes. The payment of vast unearned sums to a Pacific coast architect, over Hines' protest, is an example. But whatever the facts, they will be worth the digging.

It seems significant that there was persistent discontent and agitation on the part of the veterans against the rehabilitation administration until General Hines took over the job. Now the American Legion and the disabled men themselves appear to be completely satisfied for the first time with the officials who are in charge.

COMPARING HEROES

Lloyd George, visiting the house where Stonewall Jackson died on the battlefield and the scene of Robert E. Lee's triumph at Chancellorsville, confessed with apparent honesty that the World war had produced no such men as these. Foch, he thought, would be distantly comparable to Lee; Allenby to Jackson.

The conqueror of the Marne and the conqueror of Jerusalem are probably no greater technicians in their day and with the instruments at their hand than were the generals of our Civil war. World war generals, moreover, were not called upon to be the soul and inspiration as well as the mind of campaigns. Maneuvers were coldly calculated and executed from distant headquarters. Stonewall Jackson ruled and drove in person—a Presbyterian zealot carrying his God, as well as his military genius, into battle and dying with his men. Lee unquestionably remains one of the most beautiful and heroic characters in history, a scholar, a tactician, a brave man, but above all, a gentleman—the incarnation people like to conjure up when they talk about "the old South."

Rather in civil life—in a Clemenceau, for instance, or in a man like Lloyd George himself—did people look during the World war for that assurance and inspiration which the South drew from Lee and Jackson, the north from "Unconditional Surrender" Grant.

THE FIRST OFFENDERS

The city of St. Louis is arranging to colonize first offenders against the law on a large tract of land which former United States Ambassador David R. Francis presented to the municipality as a gift. These lawbreakers will be put to work at operating the fifty-acre farm and gradually converting it into a park.

The first offenders will not be guarded by policemen or deputy sheriffs, nor will they be confined in the grounds. The city will put them on their honor. It is the common opinion of experts that many persons are instructed and confirmed in crime by association with professional criminals, and many lawbreakers would be only first offenders and never would be arrested or imprisoned again if they did not come in contact, in jail, with veterans in crime. The St. Louis experiment should shed some light on this phase of the problem.

TODAY'S POEM

By Burton Braloy

OF COURSE NOT

I would rather sing of laughter than of tears,
I would rather sing of hope than sing of fears,
I would rather sing of successes
Than the troubles and distresses
Which were certain to encounter with the years.
I would rather sing of love than of shame,
I would rather sing of courage and of fame,
Than to sing of those who quit
When their duty calls for fight.
Or the strength of soul to fight out the game.
I would rather sing of truth than sing of doubt,
I would rather sing of triumph than of rout,
I would rather sing of man's free
As he struggles to the peak,
Than to sing the mind from which he's slung out.

I would rather sing of the surge that cleans the heart,
Than to sing of the agony that starts,
I am somehow fagged and fed,
But I cannot help but boast
That the critics will declare it wise.

THE ATTACK OF HEMORRHOIDS

The hemorrhoidal veins may be overdistended, dilated and enlarged (varicose veins) for a considerable period, or indeed for many years, before the subject realizes that he has piles. The first "attack of piles" occurs when the affected vein or veins become inflamed (phlebitis); this inflammation or phlebitis is brought on, each time, by infection, that is, by invasion of the mucous membrane and the tissues of the wall of the vein by germs. The sufferer for and wherefrom germs will point out presently, if I don't forget it.

Here we must repeat that (1) about one out of every three cases purporting to be "piles" are not piles at all; if treated as piles only disappointment or harm can result; (2) complete and permanent relief is obtainable by removal or obliteration of the affected veins by one or another surgical means; and (3) constipation predisposes to or aggravates piles and piles constipation. The unhygienic habit of taking physics predisposes to or aggravates both conditions so that it is a very sad state of affairs indeed—but people just will have their own way despite what I tell 'em.

Adhering cheerfully to my custom I refrain from going into the symptoms, but it is good for everybody's health to have just an inkling about the different classes of piles. There is the ordinary external hemorrhoid, painless in the quiescent or usual state, but very painful when an "attack" is on, that is when the vein is inflamed (phlebitis), particularly when a thrombus forms within the inflamed vein (thrombo phlebitis)—a condition which demands incision and turning out of the clot. A second class is internal or "blind" pile, which is prone to bleed; the bleeding is in many cases unnoticed by the victim until eventually it undermines the health very gravely, whether the victim knows his trouble is piles or not. A third type is "itching" piles. Any condition of hemorrhoids may cause more or less itching, but probably in the majority of instances when people complain of "itching piles" they have no piles at all.

And now, putting myself on the back for my excellent memory, I again refer to the role of the inevitable germs in precipitating the "attack" of piles. Pathogenic (disease producing) germs cannot pass through the normal mucous membrane anywhere, but must have some way opened for them, such as a trifling abrasion or injury or puncture or scratch. In the ordinary attack of inflammation of a hemorrhoidal vein the injury which opens the way is a slight abrasion from hardened fecal matter or a slight tear from the dragging effect of straining in constipation or a minute opening in the mucous membrane over the distended, swollen pile occurs from ulceration. So there you are, all set for the germs to move in and start something.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Character Analysis

You hold that character analysis is foolish. Perhaps your conclusion was reached after having an experience with an incompetent analyst. I have been studying character analysis for two years and am prepared to prove it is not foolish. I talked recently with the head of the department of anthropology of a great state university and we agreed perfectly upon the fundamentals upon which character analysis is based. If you will send me a picture of yourself and tell me the color of your eyes and what and whether your flesh is of hard or soft consistency, I will send you an analysis of yourself that will challenge your statement that character analysis is foolish.—Mrs. N. B. C.

Answer—I'm afraid my flesh isn't quite soft enough to do that. Character analysis based on such things is foolish. Character analysis based upon personal appearance or upon handwriting isn't character analysis but just an amusing pastime. No human mind can read character by such trivial signs, though a lot of folks pretend to do so. A very interesting routine "character analysis" may be drawn up which will strike within recognizable distance of at least 50 per cent of the subjects. (Copyright, National Newspaper Service.)

Accuracy Rules In Yale Film Of Columbus' Story

(From The Independent.)

Yale is taking her movies seriously, which is quite right, considering that she has decided to go into the movie business. Columbus, the first of a series of 32 Chronicles of America, is a good test. That is to say, historical accuracy was carefully observed and there were no features calculated to belittle the heroic importance of this great event. The picture produced a fine cumulative effect.

At the outset there is an impressive scene at the court of Ferdinand and Isabella. Through a doorway the audience observes high functionaries of the Spanish court awaiting the entrance of the king and queen. Follow their arrival and occupation of the two thrones; the entrance of Columbus; the granting of the permission which he had sought for so many years to present his proposal; the play of the sovereigns and the learned members of the council as he makes his impassioned address; his sorrow when the court retired after Ferdinand's angry retort. "Such demands abuse the council's patience."

These scenes are so managed as to give the memorable story the right start and to confer dignity and heroic stature on what follows—the episodes on shipboard, the danger of mutiny as "the edge of the world is approached," and the landing amid scenes of magnificent natural beauty. The scholar producers have also contrived to make the spiritual element in the character of Columbus dominant the whole action and by so doing have worked into the discovery of America an unobtrusive note of high purpose—destiny.

Yale may also have the credit for making the movie world sit up and take notice by selecting a competent cast without drawing upon the services of so much as one star. If the Chronicles of America series should turn out to be a commercial success, its effect upon million dollar salaries will not be particularly hard to guess. It is well that this interesting experiments of picturing America should be undertaken by a foremost university. Success is not likely to turn the heads of scholars to such an extent as to make them believe that American history can be taught only by means of motion pictures. If the series can be made an instructive adjunct of history teaching, without relaxing the pupil's mental fiber, the gain will be undoubted. The problem is one of the highest importance and one which teachers the country over should study with the utmost care.

DAD AND SON WEEK WILL BE OBSERVED BY CHURCHES HERE

Y. M. C. A. Will Turn Over Its Building To Fathers And Sons On Nov. 10

National Father and Son week, November 11-18, will be observed locally by the local churches this year instead of jointly with the Y. M. C. A. This decision was reached at a meeting of the Appleton Ministerial association. The only part on the Y. M. C. A. will take in the week's observance is the giving of a recreational program to fathers and sons of different churches on Saturday evening, Nov. 10, when the entire building will be thrown open to the use of the program will include games of pool, billiards, checkers, chess and other games.

In a letter to the international committee of the Y. M. C. A. written at the World House at Washington, D. C. on June 14, 1923, Warren G. Harding, president of the United States, said:

"My attention has been called to the National Father and Son movement, which is to be observed during the week of November 11-18. It is a great pleasure to me to commend this movement, which is as its objective to draw to gether in a more intimate way, the fathers and sons of America, and to strengthen and develop this relationship."

The success of this movement during the past years has won for it a distinct place. Since the movement has become world-wide in character, it is now, fittingly, centered around the date of worldwide significance, Armistice Day. Surely, the coming remembrance will need to be constantly reminded of their obligation to help maintain the peace of the world, for which millions of fathers and sons died in past years.

It is hoped that all individuals as well as constructive agencies, interested in the boy life of our nation, will give this week due consideration and recognition by bringing together fathers and sons in schools, churches, clubs, and other places and assigning the boys of the community to men who can impart a bit of companionship with their fathers."

Secular Use Of Organ Injures Church Music

Artist Says Church Music Creates Church Atmosphere

Use of the organ in the amusement world, the theater, dance hall and circus, is making this great instrument lose part of its influence as a factor in religion in the churches, according to Edward Rechlin, celebrated New York organist who gives a concert at Lawrence Memorial chapel Wednesday, Nov. 14, under auspices of Appleton Lutheran churches.

Mr. Rechlin believes there is need for a return to so eminently church music, that it should adhere to the compositions of the great musical writers of the church, especially among Lutherans. That is one of the reasons why he plays so many of his recital programs from Bach.

HAS CREED
The organist's views are contained in a creed which he has adopted, and which reads:

"I believe that the organ is the instrument of the church of God."

"It alone has the capacity appropriately to express the whole intimate spirit of religious faith and feeling, the majesty and power of God, His love and mercy, the calm strength of faith resting in the drama of redemption. It can please God with telling effect to restless, seething, seeking, times of grief and sorrow, at times broken and despairing humanity."

"To the lasting shame of the church it must be said that this, its powerful aid, has lost its strength. Its music, true notes have been changed to the gambols of the harlequin and to the sweetly sentimental tunes of an age of little faith. How can we hope for real religious feeling if the growing generation hears in church the strains and rhythms with which it associates the theatre, the circus, the dance hall, a every impulse toward the pleasure and self-indulgence of a world?"

It is true the heart of the hour of worship is the preaching of the Word. Yet as a picture is strengthened or marred by its frame, so the atmosphere of the church leaves a deeper and more lasting impression than the spoken word.

The church's music makes the church's atmosphere. It carries either the spirit of reverence or of irreverence. It comes either from eternity or from this world. It reads either to people eager to faith and eternity or to arrogance and worldliness. It is imperative to reserve the organ for the divine mission for the church. Futility of preaching cannot sis which were threatening his life. The scenes are laid in Colorado, at the foot of Mount Cedar, not far from Pike's Peak, where nestled the Sanatorium which the Modern Woodmen have established as a life saving institution for its tuberculous members. The gradual return of Gray to health and his return to his home is strikingly portrayed in one of the best educational films of the day.

ACTORS TAKE BIG RISKS FOR REALISTIC SCENES IN NEW FILM PRODUCTION

To get a surprise scene in "Her Reputation," the live film company travelled several hundred miles to the High Sierras. Rooms of red tape were unrolled to get permission from the government to burn off a hillside in a forest reserve with the cooperation of the forest ranger. An automobile was driven over a hillside at the risk of the life of the man who was driving—and what is more the stunt was done twice because the car was only going forty-five miles an hour the first time it was scraped and didn't carry enough "kick." Result—one hundred feet of film which carry an unmistakable realism warranted to silence even the usual "wore guys" of the audience. "Her Reputation" is now running at the Elite Theatre.

The score which was filmed with so much difficulty comes in the last reel of the new live film. A story that will brand an innocent girl is running on the screen as a newspaper—a story that carries red headlines and scares on the girl. The man who wrote the story is racing after the girl up a mountain road, bent on talking with her and completely establishing her identity before the action carrying a big story is released. After him comes the actor of the paper, hurried there in another chap who knows the story is a lie and who is trying to save the girl. An auto smashup on the mountain road a forest fire, dynamite and real courage went into the screening of the scene which carries a tremendous wallon in spite of its brevity on the silver sheet.

After considerable difficulty, permission was gotten by Mr. Lane to stage the forest fire on a hillside in the Sierras. The government forest reserve was planning to clear off the hillside and consented to let the film company work with a ranger supervising. The making of the scene was timed so that the auto smashup would occur just a few minutes before the hillside was fired.

"THE PROPHETS PARADISE" ORIENTAL STORY OF ROMANCE AND ADVENTURE

Most interesting of all pictures are those which take one away from the banal routine of everyday existence and bring romance, adventure, and picturesque scenes to thrill and entertain. This is one of the reasons why pictures with oriental settings are so popular and successful. Such a production is "The Prophet's Paradise," a Selznick picture starring Eugene O'Brien at the New Broad theatre today and Tuesday. It runs along with such a sweep of incident, that it leaves the audience with a feeling that it has been travelling at a high rate of speed on a particularly beautiful merry-go-round.

THE VALUE OF LIFE

What is the value of a life? Is it worth little? Is it worth much? Life cannot be bought, life cannot be sold, life cannot be given away. What would you take for your life? Manager Cook of the New Broad has secured the feature "The Value of Life" as an extra added attraction for Monday and Tuesday. This story portrays the fight made by George Gray, a member of that organization to overcome the mounds of tubercu-

Building for Growth

LONG in advance of actual work, telephone construction must be foreseen, engineered and financed.

Many men and many machines, unseen by you, are working to provide you and your neighbors with adequate service.

If you had magic eyes, you could see, all over America, thousands of towns where work is in progress. Every working day the Bell System's bill for new construction is over three-quarters of a million dollars.

All of this new construction benefits you. Every extension of telephone facilities, anywhere, increases the value of telephone service everywhere.

Every dollar's worth of new Bell System construction enables each community better to work out its own destiny and knits it and other communities more closely together into a national commonwealth of speech.

"The Riggs—all you-if any one comes, I'll be talking to Jerry." He followed her and put a hand on her shoulder. "And look up! There are people worse off than we are—and it's a great life if you don't know it."

Clare stood before the mirror a moment, first brushing aside the damp, five, then covering her red cheeks with powder. It was as a reflection over her shoulder in the glass that she saw the door open and Daniel Glitcher came in.

OPENING OLD WOUNDS

Clare stood a moment, surveying the man in reflection as she had done a thousand times in her heart since last they had faced in dramatic, ten city in a darkened church room. He did not see her. He stood there, a meek figure, indeed.

Suddenly Clare turned. Glitcher looked up in surprise, then a bit doubtful, bowed and made a movement toward the door.

"Oh, come in," she said in bold invitation. "I'm just powdering my nose. Does that offend your reverence?"

"On the contrary," he said with a smile. "I agree with the man who said, 'Put your trust in God, but keep your powder dry.'"

"They laughed, and with the laughter the wall that was between them crumbled and vanished.

"When did you get in?" Clare asked, quietly.

"Half an hour ago."

"Had dinner?"

"On the train. I was starved." He smiled again. "Thank goodness, they don't charge for dinner by the mile. Riggs said your father-in-law was in here."

"He'll be up in a moment—won't you sit down? We haven't had five minutes together since."

"Since—" he started. But the wall had risen again and there was an awkward pause.

It was Clare who broke the momentary silence, a silence she dared not face because it brought them near, as all silences do.

"I understand you're very happy in your new profession," she said.

"Yes," he answered.

"You've got—everything—you want?" she pursued, haltingly.

"No, I haven't everything I want," he said frankly. "But I'm happy."

"My father-in-law says that if you settle this strike you're to be—"

She put her hand to her mouth in a gesture of self-reproach. "But that's a business secret."

"Suppose I might tell you, though. He says it'll make you a big man in the company—with a tremendous salary. You mustn't give that away?"

"The secret?" asked Daniel, smiling.

"The salary," said Clare. "I suppose you've got—over that?"

He smiled. "So long as you seem to have lost anything by giving up your church."

"No," he said thoughtfully. "Queer as it seems sometimes I think I've gained—in opportunity."

Clare looked away, reflectively.

"Perhaps one might have eaten one's cake and had it, too," she said, chiding to herself.

"Clare!" Glitcher turned eyes that were half eager, half reproachful, upon her.

"You frightened me so that night with the bugaboo of poverty," she went on with something of despair in her voice. "Don't you think there might have been a compromise—something half way?"

He turned away.

"Why open wounds that are beginning to heal?" he said, protesting.

"Tours seem quite healed," she said, a little evasively.

He stepped nearer and looked at her intently.

"And you have everything you want?" he asked tenderly, solicitously.

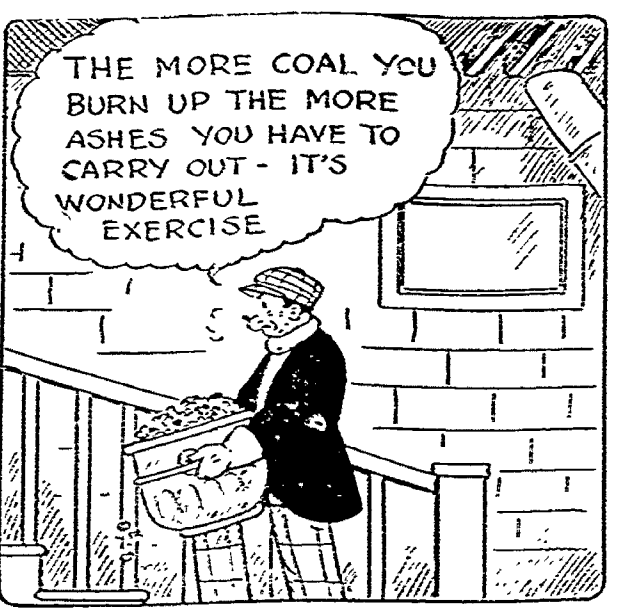

"Yes," she said with something of her impulsive defiance.

"You see—I was selfish—to ask you to give up the things that count so much with you for those that count with me." He was quietly earnest.

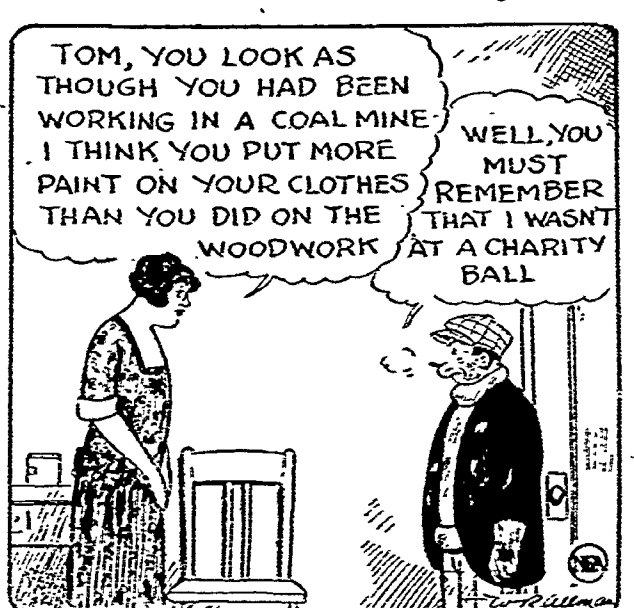

"Afterward, when I knew you were to be married—" He frowned. "I was afraid for you—but I was wrong again. You're happy—and I'm honestly glad."

She was looking at him quizzically. "Are you—happy?" she asked slowly.

NEW INCOME TAX LAW PUZZLER TO CITY TREASURER

Awaits Orders On Using Personal Property To Offset Partner's Incomes

May partnership personal property tax receipts be used to offset income tax? That is the question that has arisen in the office of Fred Bachman, city treasurer, following a change in the Wisconsin income tax law.

Arthur Oppenard, acting assessor of incomes, replying to Mr. Bachman, submitted two clippings from tax commission advice declaring that the aforementioned procedure may be adopted, but Mr. Bachman asserts that he will not undertake the responsibility unless he receives a written order therefrom from the state tax commission.

Before 1923 the method of paying partnership income tax was a joint payment, similar to that of corporations. The last legislature amended the law in order to make members of partnerships liable only in their individual capacity. The net taxable income is to be computed according to each partner's proportionate share. No provision was made, however, to permit partners to distribute the personal property tax pro rata and use that amount to offset the income tax. This tax commission instructs the assessors that such a procedure is possible. Rule 7 appended by the commission to Section 7121 of the statutes, however, declares that "the exact name is important. For instance, a firm cannot use personal property tax receipts to offset income tax of the members."

In a statement issued Oct. 15, the commission approves the suggestion of Edwin S. Mack of Miller, Mack & Fairchild, Milwaukee, for a regulation that partnership personal property taxes be given in the name of the individual partners in the proportion of their respective interests and providing a method—for instance, by affidavit evidencing these partners. The commission intimates that the matter will be taken care of in the manner he suggests.

When Paul Whiteman, the famous orchestra leader, came back from his triumphs in London, two of the pieces he chose to record on phonograph records upon his return were "Last Night on the Back Porch" and "I Love You," selections that were extremely popular with Appleton music buyers. The five records most in demand at local music shops last week were:

EASTERN WISCONSIN SETS PACE FOR SILOS

The eastern district of Wisconsin, of which Outagamieco is a part, leads all other districts in the number of silos it has on its farms, 19,113. The district includes besides Outagamie, Brown, Calumet, Door, Fond du Lac, Kewaunee, Manitowish, Sheboygan, and Winnebago counties. Dane-co, which has 4,404 silos holds the county record. This is an increase of 281 silos in that county since 1921. The number of silos in the state totals 140,650, which is an increase of 5,635 over the previous year. According to the census figures, this record shows that there are 53 silos to every 100 farms in the state. The Dane county record is 7 to every 10 farms. Dodgeco ranks second with a total of 4,172 silos. The southern district, which includes Columbus, Dane, Dodge, Green, Jefferson, and Rock counties ranks as the second district with 17,735 silos.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

A young man who practiced medicine in Pennsylvania became famous and was called in consultation in many towns and cities because of his success in the treatment of disease. This was Dr. Pierce, who finally made up his mind to place some of his medicines before the public, and moving to Buffalo, N. Y., put up what he called his "Favorite Prescription," and placed it with the druggists in every state.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has long been recognized as a tonic for diseases peculiar to womanhood. After suffering pain, feeling nervous, dizzy, weak and dragged down by weaknesses of her sex—a woman is quickly restored to health by its use. Thousands of women testify that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has entirely eradicated their distressing ailments.

More recently that wonderful discovery of Dr. Pierce's, called Anuric for kidneys and backache, has been successfully used by many thousands who write Dr. Pierce of the benefits received—that their backache, rheumatism, and other symptoms of uric acid deposits in joints or muscles have been completely conquered by its use.

STOP AT ARTERY SIGNS TO AVOID ARREST, WARNING

Police Officers Instructed To Enforce Law Requiring Cars To Stop

Negligent automobilists will do well to keep their eyes open for arterial highway signs, or so few of them may find themselves under arrest and will have to explain things to the judge.

Members of the local police force have been instructed by Chief George T. Prim to enforce the arterial highway ordinance requiring all vehicles to come to a full stop before crossing arterial highways.

Several complaints have reached the department and warrants will probably be sworn out in a day or two against the offenders.

The safety of automobile passengers was endangered Saturday afternoon following the Lawrence-Ripon football game and also on Saturday evening when motorists crossing arterial highways were in too great haste to stop. Motorists on the arterial highway, knowing that they had the right of way were constantly anxious about other automobiles cutting in or crossing from side streets without stopping. A number of the automobiles ignored the rule about coming to a "dead" stop and merely slowed down before crossing.

LAWRENCE HUMBLERIPON, 17-0; IN HOMECOMING GAME

Vastly Improved Team Shows Strong Offense In Saturday's Battle

3,500 Homecoming Fans See Lawrence Tear Through Ripon Line And Heave Passes Over Foes' Heads

Playing the best football it has shown this season, Lawrence whipped Ripon before a homecoming crowd of 3,500 persons, 17 to 0. Lawrence fielded Saturday afternoon. It was the fourteenth victory in twenty-four games for Lawrence and the fourth straight win in four years. A crushing attack through the line, mixed with forward passes and a dash around the ends, gave Lawrence a well earned victory.

Ripon threatened only twice, once in the second period and again in the final quarter. A dropkick failed in the second period. Two successful passes, mixed with a few rushes through the line in the last quarter put the Red and White invaders on the Lawrence 31 yard line. Four times the enemy essayed passes and four times they were broken up and Ripon lost the ball on each occasion.

Lawrence outplayed Ripon in every department. So great was the superiority over the Red and White team that the visitors apparently lost heart early in the battle and they did not show their customary fight except at isolated times. Ripon made only eight first downs and four of those were in the last quarter.

STRONG IN SPOTS

Lawrence could not gain at will through Ripon. Several times the home team showed unexpected resistance and stopped what looked like sure marches to the goal. But Lawrence gained many times more yards than Ripon. Despite Ripon's reputation as a passing team, the Lawrence defense was so efficient and was far superior in line smothering.

CHANGE IN ATTACK

For the first time this year Lawrence showed a variety of attack. Several substantial gains were made in dashes around the end and Kotal employed a number of cunning plays. A successful pass was worked successfully several times and resulted in paving the way for two touch downs.

BUCK'S BOOT SAVES GAME FOR PACKERS

A fumbled punt gave Lawrence its first chance in the first five minutes of play. Donovan's punt ended on the ball on the Red 21 yard line. Boettcher crashed through for six yards on the first play and Zussman added another. A pass, Boettcher to Kotal, put the ball over the goal line for the first marker. Stoll place kicked between the goal posts for an extra point.

THREATEN AGAIN

Lawrence threatened again in that period. Another Boettcher to Kotal pass was responsible for a gain and final gain Lawrence had on Ripon's 13 yard line. The foe held desperately for three downs. Then Kotal called Stoll back from the line to try a placekick but the ball was blocked and Ripon got it on its own 15 yard line just before the quarter.

STOLL KICKS GOAL

Donovan's inability to pick up a rolling punt in the second period gave Lawrence another excellent opportunity. Cook booted over Donovan's head and the latter kicked the ball around trying to pick it up and final try he was downed on Ripon's 15 yard line. Graf made a terrific punt and Lawrence got the ball on Ripon's 15 yard line. In four plays Lawrence was on the Red 5 yard line but the next three plays failed to gain only a yard or two. Stoll essayed a placekick from the 5 yard line, looking the lead between the posts for three points.

A splendid pass, Boettcher to Kotal, in the middle of the third period, netted a 24 yard gain for Lawrence and put the ball on the Ripon 15 yard line. Boettcher cut that to 4 yards with a crash through the center of the line. Kinney went in for DeForge at this point and on the first smash he made it first down on the Ripon 15 yard line. The next try was a bone-crushing drive over center in which Kinney went over the goal line for the final touchdown. Stoll kicked goal.

PLACEKICK FAILS

Lawrence tried a placekick in the final period but the ball was short. Ripon made its most desperate throw in this quarter, carrying the ball deep into Lawrence territory by mixing passes with rushes. Berry at the 37 yard line the Blue defense stiffened and Ripon was held.

Saturday's game was a splendid exhibition of football by the Lawrence backfield. The line showed great improvement over the week previous. Blackbourn and LaRoux especially outplaying the opposing forwards were decidedly Berry showed up stronger on the ends and Cook made a much better showing than in his previous starts this year.

Kinney's drives through the Ripon wall stamped him as one of the best line smotherers Lawrence has had for many years. He drives into the line like a bullet, carrying half the opposing team with him. Boettcher also showed great power as a line crusher while Kotal showed up best in grabbing passes and skirting the ends. As usual, Gregson was responsible as much as any other Blue player for

Joins Fairies

EDDIE GHARRITY
Beloit—Eddie Gharrity, star catcher of the Washington League, is the latest big leaguer to desert the big top for the fast Mid-West Industrial League, which comprises teams from Ohio and Wisconsin.

Eddie, when the season closed, came direct to Beloit and signed a contract with the Fairies, a team representing the Fairbanks-Morse Company.

During the winter months, Gharrity, who is a crack basketball player, will perform in that capacity for the Fairies. Next spring he will play the best catcher in the majors during the 1923 campaign.

Gharrity's contract with Washington terminated at the close of the season. He was offered an all-year job that was so attractive he decided to pass up his big league berth.

BUCK'S BOOT SAVES GAME FOR PACKERS

Field Goal In Third Quarter Gives Green Bay 3 To 0 Victory At St. Louis

St. Louis—Cub Buck's field goal in the third quarter from the twenty-eight yard line paved the way for the Green Bay Packers to defeat the St. Louis Browns here Sunday afternoon at Sportsman's park, by the score of 3 to 0.

The pigskin fracas was played on a sea of mud and five minutes after the first whistle blew, it was hardly possible to get within the Packers' thirty yard line. In the last minute of play, the Green Bay team had the ball on St. Louis' three yard line, but time was up before the Redger champs could put it over for a touchdown.

SATURDAY'S WIN PLACES ILLINOIS IN BIG TEN LEAD

Both Wisconsin And Minnesota Won Once And Played To Scoreless Tie

Chicago—Bob Zuppke's Illini, by their 7 to 0 defeat of Chicago, on Saturday stepped into the leadership in the Big Ten conference football title race. The Illini have won each of three conference starts.

Michigan, by winning from Iowa, 9 to 3, struck in the undefeated class, but the Wolverines have played only two conference games.

While Wisconsin remained idle, Minnesota humiliated Northwestern 30 to 14 and made into a tie with the Badgers for third place.

Both Wisconsin and Minnesota have won once as they played to a scoreless tie last week.

Coach A. A. Stagg's Chicago Maroons slipped back from the leadership to fifth position by their defeat on Saturday at the hands of Illinois.

Indiana, beaten by Wisconsin and victorious over Northwestern, is in sixth place. Iowa, with one triumph and two defeats, is seventh. Purdue was beaten in its only game of the season, Chicago sending the Boilermakers down, 21 to 7, last week.

Ohio State rests quietly near the bottom, having been beaten by both Michigan and Iowa.

And to Northwestern goes the honor of playing the greater number of games. The Purple have taken the field four times this season against conference rivals and four times Northwestern has lost.

Noire Dame, the only prominent team in the middle west, which is not in the Big Ten conference, added another triumph to its string on Saturday by trouncing Purdue, 34 to 7.

BILLIARD TOURNAMENT TO END IN CHICAGO

Championship Match Shifted West Owing To Gotham Housing Shortage

By Associated Press
New York—In the event final matches Monday afternoon between William F. Hoppe, champion Walter Cochran, youngest American cue expert and Jacob Schaefer, T. I. end in a tie, the finals of the third international tournament 152 ball billiards championship will be played off in Chicago.

Chicago was chosen for the possible tie off owing to the inability to make hotel arrangements at the hotel Pennsylvania or Astor.

Hoppe and Schaefer meet Monday night and Cochran plays Edward Foreman, Belgian champion, Monday afternoon.

Cochran, in defeating Hoppe and Schaefer, is conceded the advantage in the triple tie play. If he defeats Foreman, the winner of the Hoppe-Schaefer match must meet him, and should he lose, the winner of the Hoppe-Schaefer engagement will be champion.

ASK WINNEBAGO CO. HELP FOR NEW ROAD

C. Rollman, of Green Bay, division highway engineer, also was present. The committee seemed to favor the project that would shorten the state legislative committee that was appointed to lay out 2,500 additional miles of state highway.

Back After 5 Year Rest

"HEFTY" HAZEL
Back in 1916 Hefty Hazel was the star fullback of the Rutgers eleven. "He'll be a bear next year," exclaimed Foster Sanford, noted Rutgers coach. Hefty was not a bear the next year. He was an absentee. Hefty failed to come back. For five years he stayed away. Two years ago he reappeared at Rutgers. "Was just taking a little recess," he explained. Now he is eligible to play again. Sanford is using him in his old position at which the hefty one is again starring.

SEYMOUR YOUTHS IN AUTO TIPOVER

A Ford sedan owned by William Baseman & Son, Liberty, Seymour, was wrecked Sunday afternoon about two miles northwest of that city when it ran into a ditch and tipped over. The automobile was rented by Herbert Melhian and was occupied also by another young man who was unidentified.

The occupants of the car abandoned it after the accident, and were not seen in Seymour Monday, so nothing could be learned concerning possible injuries. It is understood that they were not hurt.

Melhian appears to have lost control of the car while driving along the highway, and it tipped over. The body was wrecked and the running gear was damaged.

AGED WOMAN BADLY INJURED IN FALL

While visiting at the home of her namesake and relative, Miss Mary Garvey, 72, of the McCormick home for the aged, Green Bay, fell downstairs and suffered severe injuries at about 7 o'clock Friday evening. She was removed from the home of Miss Mary Garvey, 923 State-st., Saturday morning to St. Elizabeth hospital. By her fall downstairs Miss Garvey suffered a severe cut on the forehead and contraction of the brain. Up to Monday noon she had not yet regained consciousness, but it is expected that she will recover.

BACK PORCH SONG IS STILL LEADING SALES

The place of sheet music in greatest demand last week in Appleton music shops was "Last Night on the Back Porch." This piece has been having an exceptional run and has been one of the leading selections for the last four weeks. It is followed in popularity by "That Old Gang of Mine" and "Indiana Moon." "Easy Melody" is fast gaining favor. The five most popular pieces of sheet music at local music stores last week follow:

Irving Zuehlke—"Last Night on the Back Porch, Easy Melody, Midnight Rose, Indiana Moon, School Days." Meyer-Seeger—"Just a Girl That Men Forget, That Old Gang of Mine, Indiana Moon, Last Night on the Back Porch, Hi Lee Hi Lo." Wm. H. Nolan—"Last Night on the Back Porch, Just a Girl That Men Forget, Easy Melody, Chansonette." Final plans for maintenance of the recreation rooms of the Lutheran Aid Bowling club will be made at a meeting of the club members at 7:30 Monday evening. The executive has prepared recommendations concerning the tentative constitution adopted by the club, and the future policy of management.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CROUP COUGHS WITH FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR

Scout Matter Up
The matter of Earle's backing the boy scout movement at Neenah is to come before that organization Thursday evening. If favorable action is taken a joint meeting of Neenah, Menasha and Kaukauna will be held a few days later at which a scoutmaster will be selected. Neenah is the last of the four cities to act on the indorsement.

OSHKOSH NORMAL RESENTS CHARGE OF LOADING TEAM

Teachers Deny Hiring Players To Defeat College Squads On Gridiron

Oshkosh Normal officials are on the war path. Certain excuses offered by colleges for defeats at the hands of state normals on the gridiron allege that the teachers played little attention to eligibility rules and loaded their squads with outside players, which was given as the sole cause of their inability to beat the college eleven.

Special reference was made to La Crosse Normal in connection with its recent defeat of Lawrence college, and also in connection with the beating which Oshkosh Normal gave Lawrence college two years ago. The article, which appeared last Sunday in the La Crosse Tribune, is quoted:

A Beloit writer on a Beloit newspaper went off half cocked and carelessly set forth before the clash between Beloit college and Lawrence that the local school would not accept Lawrence's defeat at the hands of La Crosse Normal as an outward sign of weakness on the part of the Blue and White in view of the fact the "northern Normal" take great delight in defeating the big Lawrence eleven and every year load up with players, paying little attention to eligibility rules.

He accused Oshkosh Normal of using players from the Green Bay packers in defeating Lawrence, 3 to 0, a year ago. I am informed that steps have been taken to have this bit of carelessness corrected for the benefit of readers of the Beloit paper. Inspection of credits and the eligibility of each La Crosse Normal player is open to those who believe with the Beloit sport writer that Coach Koeler used other besides eligible men.

UNFOUNDED STATEMENTS
"The Normal schools of the state, particularly Oshkosh and La Crosse, whose football eleven are yearly a constant threat to the so-called college teams, have no grievances with the colleges in Wisconsin. Neither do we believe the colleges themselves have any grievance with the state normals. But it is unfounded statements such as that which appeared in the Beloit press which is stoutly repudiated by reason of utter misrepresentation of facts. The colleges of the state, we believe, are realizing more clearly with each new year that some few state normals are playing football of a caliber that conservatively approaches a par with college football. Oshkosh and La Crosse have invariably been the standard bearers of the Normal conference. They cannot afford to be admired in unfounded statements regarding ineligibility of players."

Eagle hall has been engaged and dinner will be served at 7 o'clock, giving the farmers time to complete their evening work before starting for the city.

The dinner will be complimentary to all farmers. The only requirements is that they telephone the chamber of commerce or write to that office signifying their intention of attending so the exact number of dinner reservations may be known. No invitations will be sent out for fear some farmers might be overlooked, and the newspaper announcement therefore is to be considered an invitation to all the farmers of the county.

Dean H. L. Russell, head of the agricultural college of the University of Wisconsin, is to be the principal speaker. Paul O. Nyhus of Madison, federal statistician for Wisconsin and formerly farm agent of the First National bank here, also will give a talk. Entertainment features will include a 2-reel motion picture showing the meat industry and the meat making processes from the hoof to the table. Community singing will be conducted by Dr. Earl L. Baker of Lawrence Conservatory of Music, and a round of amusement will be provided by C. F. Pratt of Sheboygan, secretary of the chamber of commerce of that city.

This community dinner is reciprocal to those held this summer at various Greenview farms for a mutual discussion of problems. It is expected that large numbers of farmers will be present.

Eagles at Oshkosh
More than a dozen members of the local acre of Eagles attended a meeting of Oshkosh aerie Sunday afternoon and listened to an address by National Secretary Perry of California. An entertaining program was rendered.

Thirty-five boys attended the first boys' Sunday afternoon meeting of the season at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon. John T. Sells of Lawrence college gave a talk and Everett Robinson had charge of the music.

Smith's Yearlings Shut Out Lawrence Second String, 10-0

FIRST WARD WINS TROPHY IN SOCCER

Champions Picked To Play Oshkosh Leaders Either Nov. 10 Or 17

First ward grade school soccer team Friday afternoon won the championship of the grade school league by shutting out Lincoln, 10 to 0, and third ward, 5 to 0. Neither the Third warders nor Lincoln threatened to score after reaching the Fresh 20 yard line. After the Freshmen had reached the Blacks' 6 yard line by a series of passes and end runs, they were held there, and the ball went to the second string when the Fresh failed to make first down. The Blacks were held for 2 plays and punted out of danger. A number of brilliant plays, chiefly cross bucks, again put the Freshmen on the Blacks' 10 yard line, where they were held for three plays, and Mills droppedkick between the uprights, for 3 points. At the end of the first period the Freshmen were in possession of the ball on the 50 yard line.

ONLY TOUCHDOWN
In the second period, a long pass from Breeze to Heidenman brought the Freshmen to the second team's 10 yard line after the yearlings had advanced 15 yards by line plunges and an end run, and three more plays carried the pliskin across the Blacks' line for the first and only touchdown. Mills droppedkick between the goal posts for the extra point.

The Blacks tightened up considerably after this play, and during the rest of the game neither team was able to score, although both several times came within striking distance of each others goal line. After the ball had been carried up and down the field several times, the game ended with the Blacks in possession of the ball on the Freshman 10 yard line.

PURVIS FIRST IN 'L' CROSS COUNTRY

Out of the string of Lawrence distance runners who Saturday morning ran over a course of three and one-fourths miles, Purvis finished first, his time was 30:17.45. The eight men who finished first have been chosen to represent the school in the Wisconsin News meet in Milwaukee, Nov. 10, and also in the cross-country meet with Marquette in Milwaukee on Thanksgiving day. Runners crossed the tape in the following order: Purvis, Benson, Larsen, Snyder, Taras, Clapp, Tuttle and McMahon.

Koletske Sets High Score Of 740 In Bowling

Elks club bowling league has developed a second Jimmy Smith in Kurt Koletske. Saturday evening this man bowled a score of 265, making eight straight strikes, and would have rolled a perfect score except for a split in the ninth frame.

In the two following games he bowled 242 and 234 respectively, making a grand total for the match of 740, for an average of 246 per game. He thus established a record as yet unattained during this season on any alleys in the city, and has set a big mark for tennis artists to shoot at.

YOUR QUESTION and Its Answer

QUESTION—"My neighbor's little girl was sick the other night with cold and fever. Was I right in telling her your adjustments would get quick results."

ANSWER—"You were quite right in offering your advice. In fevers, the radiation and elimination of excess heat is mainly through the skin, and the skin is largely governed by the kidneys. Spinal adjustments in the dorsal region where nerves are pinched will cause the kidneys to function 100 per cent, thus restoring proper elimination of poisons and bodily waste. A cold with fever never gets far under Spinal Adjustments, as the real cause is quickly corrected. This is equally true in most acute ailments. We are not handicapped with the uncertainty of diagnosis and the element of doubt in prescribing a remedy. We readily recognize the cause of the patient's illness, and we require but one remedy, the correction of the cause. Evidently you have been well informed as to what may be expected from Spinal Adjustments. This department is conducted to spread the knowledge of Chiropractic for the correction of the cause of illness. Questions will be answered in the order received if addressed to

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.
